About The Program:

Since Virginia Satir left us in 1988, Maria Gomori and John Banmen have continued to develop her model in their own unique creative ways. For the last 10 years of Virginia's life Maria and John were senior faculty with Virginia Satir at her month long Process Community in Crested Butte, Colorado. As colleagues and friends of Virginia Satir they were privy to her more private musings and thoughts about human growth and change. With their experiential connection to Satir's Human Growth Model, since her death they have deepened the process of how people change from their spiritual essence.

Before Maria Gomori will work with a star, John Banmen will cover some of the basics of the Satir Model and put into perspective the work ahead. He will cover the intrapsychic and interactive aspects of the process to assist people with limited Satir Model background to understand and appreciate the transformational depth of Maria Gomoris work. Afterwards, he will explain and conceptualize the therapeutic process of the demonstration.

Since 1970 Maria Gomori and John Banmen have worked together in many contexts and in many countries around the world. They are co-authors with Virginia Satir and Jane Gerber of the award winning book "The Satir Model: Family Therapy and Beyond" (1991). In 2015 Maria Gomori will celebrate her 95th Birthday and John Banmen will celebrate his 80th Birthday. We are excited to provide this opportunity to witness these two master therapists working together in what will probably be their last workshop as a team in North America.
